The Preface.

WE are taught by many and sundry examples of holy Scriptures, that upon occasion of particular Punishments, Afflictions, and Perils, which God of his most just judgement hath sometimes sent amongst his people, to shew his anger against sin, and to call them to repentance, and to the amendment of their lives, all men ought to be provoked, and stirred up to more fervency, and diligence in Prayer and Fasting, and Alms-deeds, to a more deep consideration of their Consciences, to ponder their unthankfulnesse, and forgetfulnesse of Gods mercifull benefits towards them, with craving of pardon for the time past, and to ask his assistance for the time to come to live more godly, and so to be defended and delivered from all further perils and dangers.

THE PREFACE.

2 Sam 24.14. This was done by the vertuous Kings, David,
 2 Chro. 20 5. Iosaphat, and Ezekias, in their distresses of Pe-2 Kings 19.1. stitence, War, & forraign Invasions. So did the Jonah 3. King and people of Nineve, and Hester fall to Esth. r 14 13. humble Prayers in like perils of their people.
 Dan 9.4. So did Daniel in his Captivity, & many other moe in their severall troubles and afflictions.
 Now therefore calling to minde that God hath been provoked by us to threaten, and begin to visit us at this present both with the Plague, and other grievous Judgements; It hath been thought meet to excite and stir up all godly people within this Realm, to pray earnestly and heartily to God to forgive us our sins, and consequently to turn away his deserved wrath from us, and to restore us to his gracious favour, and to our bodily health.
 And although it is every Christian mans duty,
 of his own devotion to pray at all times; yet for that the corrupt nature of man is so slothfull and negligent herein, he hath need by often and sundry means to be stirred up, and put in minde of his duty, according as is now commanded by His most Pious and Sacred Majestie.

THE ORDER FOR Morning Prayer.

Let the Minister beginning Service, read with a loud voice one of these sentences of Scripture.

Direct us, O Lord, and yet in thy judgement, not in thy fury, lest we should be consumed, and brought to nothing. Jerem. 10.
Rent your hearts, and not your garments, and turn to the Lord your God, because he is gentle and mercifull, he is patient, and of much mercy, and such a one as is sorry for your afflictions. Joel 2.

Dearly

Morning Prayer.

DEarly beloved brethren, the scripture moveth us in sundry places to acknowledge and confesse our manifold sins and wickednesse, and that we should not dissemble nor cloak them before the face of Almighty God our heavenly Father, but confesse them with an humble, lowly, penitent, and obedient heart, to the end that we may obtain forgiveness of the same, by his infinite goodness and mercy. And although we ought at all times humbly to acknowledge our sins before God, yet ought we most chiefly so to do, when we assemble and meet together, to render thanks for the great benefits that we have received at his hands, to set forth his most worthy praise, to hear his most holy word, and to ask those things which be requisite and necessary, as well for the body as the soul. Wherefore I pray and beseech you as many as be here present, to accompany me with a pure heart and humble voice, unto the throne of the heavenly grace, saying after me.

¶ A generall confession to be said of the whole congregation after the minister, kneeling.

Almighty and most mercifull Father, we have erred and strayed from thy wayes like lost sheep, we have followed too much the devices and desires of our own hearts, we have have offended against thy holy lawes, we have left undone those things which we ought to have done, And we have done those things which we ought not to have done, And there is no health in us: But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us miserable offenders; Spare thou them, O God, which confesse their faults; Restore thou them that be penitent, according to thy promises declared unto mankind in Christ Iesu our Lord: And grant, O most mercifull Father, for his sake, that we may hereafter live a godly, righteous, and sober life, to the glory of thy holy Name. Amen.

¶ The absolution or remission of sins to be pronounced by the Priest alone.

A Almighty God, the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which desireth not the death of a sinner, but rather that he may turn from his wickednesse and live, and hath given power and commandment to his Ministers, to declare and pronounce to his people, being penitent, the absolution and remission of their sins: He pardoneth and absolveth all them which truly repent, and unfeignedly beleeve his holy Gospel; Wherefore we beseech him to grant us true repentance and his holy Spirit, that those things may please him which we do at this present, and that the rest of our life hereafter may be pure and holy, so that at the last

we may come to his eternall joy, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

The people shall answer, Amen.

¶ Then shall the Minister begin the Lords prayer
with a loud voyce.

Our father which art in heaven. Hallowed be thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation: but deliver us from evil, for thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glorie, for ever and ever. Amen.

Then likewise he shall say,

¶ Lord open thou our lips.

Answer

And our mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

Priest.

¶ God make speed to save us.

Answer.

¶ Lord make haste to help us.

Priest.

Glorie be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the holy Ghost:

As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Praise ye the Lord.

21 Waſh us thorowly from our wickedneſſe, and cleaſe us from our ſins. Pſal. 51.

22 Turn thy face from our ſins, and put out all our miſdeeds.

Morning Prayer.

¶ The Psalmes appointed, are the 6. 32. 38. 39. 51. 90. 91. 102. 130. 143. whereof the five first are to be read at Morning, and the five last at Evening prayer.

Domine, ne in furore. Psal. 6.

Lord rebuke me not in thine indignation: neither chasten me in thy displeasure.

2 Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am weak: O Lord, heal me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My soul is also sore troubled: but Lord, how long wilt thou punish me?

4 Turn thee, O Lord, and deliberate my soul: Oh save me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in death no man remembreth thee: and who will give thee thanks in the pit?

6 I am weary of my groaning, every night wash I my bed: and water my couch with my tears.

7 My beauty is gone for very trouble: and worn away because of all mine enemies.

8 Away from me all ye that work vanity: for the Lord hath heard the voyce of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receive my prayer.

Morning Prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and soze vexed: they shall be turned back, and put to shame suddenly.

Beati quorum. Psal. 32.

Blessed is he whose unrighteousnesse is forgiven: and whose sin is covered.

2 Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth no sin: and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 For while I held my tongue: my bones consumed away through my dayly complaining.

4 For thy hand is heaby upon me day and night: and my moisture is like the drought in summer.

5 I will acknowledge my sin unto thee: and mine unrighteousnesse have I not hid.

6 I said, I will confesse my sins unto the Lord: and so thou forgavest the wickednesse of my sin.

7 For this shall every one that is godly make his prayer unto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: but in the great water floods
they shall not come nigh him.

8 Thou art a place to hide me in, thou shalt preferbe me from trouble: thou shalt compasse
me about with songs of deliberance.

9 I will inform thee, and teach thee in the way wherein thou shalt go: and I will guide thee with mine eye.

Morning Prayer.

10 Be ye not like to horse and mule, which have no understanding: whose mouths must be holden with bit and bridle, lest they fall upon thee.

11 Great plagues remain for the ungodly: but whoso putteth his trust in the Lord, mercie embraceth him on every side.

12 Be glad, O ye righteous, and rejoyce in the Lord: and be joyfull, all ye that are true of heart.

Domine, ne in furore. Psal. 38.

Put me not to rebuke (O Lord) in thine anger: neither chasten me in thy heauie displeasure.

2 For thine arrowes stick fast in me: and thy hand presseth me sore.

3 There is no health in my flesh, because of thy displeasure: neither is there any rest in my bones, by reason of my sin.

4 For my wickednesses are gone ouer my head: and are like a sore burden too heauy for me to bear.

5 My wounds stink and are corrupt: through my foolishnesse.

6 I am brought into so great trouble and misery: that I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loins are filled with a sore disease: and there is no whole part in my body.

Morning Prayer.

8 I am feeble and sore smitten: I haue roared for the very disquietnesse of my heart.

9 Lord, thou knowest all my desire: and my grouning is not hid from thee.

10 My heart panteth, my strength hath failed me: and the sight of my eyes is gone from me.

11 My louers and my neighbours did stand looking vpon my trouble: and my kinsmen stood afarre off.

12 They also that sought after my life laide
snares for me: and they that went about to doe me euill, talked of wickednesse, and imagined deceit all the day long.

13 As for me, I was like a deafe man and heard not: and as one that is dumbe, which doth not open his mouth.

14 I became euen as a man that heareth not:
and in whose mouth are no reproeses.

15 For in thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust:
thou shalt answer for me, O Lord my God.

16 I haue required that they (euen mine enemies) should not triumph ouer me: for when my foot slippt, they reioyced greatly against me.

17 And I truly am set in the plague: and my heauinesse is euer in my sight.

18 For I will confesse my wickednesse: and be forrie for my sinne.

19 But mine enemies liue, and are mightie:
and they that hate mee wrongfully are many in number.

20 They also that reward euill for good, are against

Morning Prayer.

against mee : because I follow the thing that good is.

21 Forſake me not, O Lord my God : be not thou farre from me.

22 Haſte thee to helpe me: O Lord God of my ſaluation.

Dixi, custodiam. Pſal. 39.

ISaid I will take heed to my wayes : that I offend not in my tongue.

2 I will keepe my mouth (as it were with a bridle :) while the bngodly is in my ſight.

3 I held my tongue and ſpake nothing : I kept ſilence, yea, euen from good words, but it was paine and griefe to me.

4 My heart was hote within me, and while I was thus muſing, the fire kindled : and at the laſt I ſpake with my tongue.

5 Lord, let me know mine end, and the number of my dayes : that I maybe certified how long I haue to liue.

6 Behold, thou haſt made my dayes as it were a ſpan long : and mine age is euen as nothing in reſpect of thee, and verily euery man liuing is altogether vanitie.

7 For man walketh in a vaine ſhadow, and diſquieteth himſelfe in vaine : hee heapeth vp riches, and cannot tell who ſhall gather them.

8 And now, Lord, what is my hope : truly my hope is euen in thee.

9 Deliuer me from all mine offences : and make

Morning Prayer.

make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.

10 I became dumb, and opened not my mouth:
for it was thy doing.

11 Take thy plague away from mee : I am euen consumed by the meanes of thy heauy hand.

12 When thou with rebukes doest chasten man for sinne, thou makest his beauty to consume away like as it were a moth fretting a garment :
euery man therefore is but vanitie.

13 Heare my prayer, O Lord, and with thine eares consider my calling : hold not thy peace at my teares.

14 For I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner : as all my fathers were.

15 Spare me a little, that I may recouer my strength : before I goe hence, and bee no more seene.

Miserere mei, Deus. Psal. 51.

Hauemercy vpon me, O God, after thy great goodnesse : according to the multitude of thy mercies, doe away mine offences.

2 Wash me thoroughly from my wickednesse :
and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I acknowledge my faults: and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee onely haue I sinned, and done
this euil in thy sight : that thou mightest bee iustified in thy saying, and cleare when thou art iudged.

5 Behold, I was shapen in wickednesse : and in sinne hath my mother conceived me.

Morning Prayer

6 But loe, thou requirest truth in the inward parts : and shalt make mee to vnderstand wisdom secretly.

7 Thou shalt purge me with hyssope, and I shall be cleane : thou shalt wash mee, and I shall be whiter then snow.

8 Thou shalt make me heare of ioy and gladnesse : that the bones which thou hast broken may reioyce.

9 Turne thy face from my sinnes : and put out all my misdoings.

10 Make me a cleane heart, O God : and renew a right spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence : and take not thy holy Spirit from me.

12 O giue me the comfort of thy helpe againe : and stablish me with thy free Spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy wayes vnto the wicked : and sinners shall bee conuerted vnto thee.

14 Deliuer mee from blood guiltinesse, O God, thou that art the God of my health : and my tongue shall sing of thy righteousness.

15 Thou shalt open my lips, O Lord : and my mouth shall shew thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, else would I giue it thee : but thou delightest not in burnt offerings.

17 The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirit : a broken and contrite heart, O God, shalt thou not despise.

Morning Prayer.

18 O bee fauourable and gracious vnto Sion : build thou the Walls of Hierusalem.

19 Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousnesse, with the burnt offerings and oblations : then shall they offer young bul-locks vpon thine Altar.

Domine, refugium. Psal. 90.

LOrd, thou hast bene our refuge : from one generation to another.

2 Before the mountaines were brought forth,
or euer the earth and the world were made : thou art God from euerlasting, and world without end.

3 Thou turnest man to destruction : againe
thou sayest, Come againe ye children of men.

4 For a thousand yeeres in thy sight are but as yesterday : seeing that is past as a watch in the night.

5 As soone as thou scatterest them, they are euen as a sleepe : and fade away suddenly like the grasse.

6 In the morning it is green, and groweth vp :
but in the evening it is cut downe, dyed vp, and withered.

7 For wee consume away in thy displeasure :
and are afraid at thy wrathfull indignation.

8 Thou hast set our misdeeds before thee :
and our secret finnes in the sight of thy countenance.

9 For when thou art angry, all our dayes are

Morning Prayer.

are gone: Wee bring our peeres to an end, as it were a tale that is told.

10 The dayes of our age are threescore peeres and ten, and though men bee so strong that they come to fourescore peeres: yet is their strength then but labour and sorrow, so soone passeth it away, and we are gone.

11 But who regardeth the power of thy wrath: for even thereafter as a man feareth, so is thy displeasure.

12 O teach us to number our daies: that wee may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

13 Turne thee againe, O Lord, at the last: and be gracious unto thy servants.

14 O satisfie us with thy mercy, and that soone: so shall we reioyce and bee glad all the dayes of our life.

15 Comfort us againe, now after the time that thou hast plagued us: and for the peeres wherein we have suffered aduersity.

16 Shew thy servants thy worke: and their children thy glory.

17 And the glorious Maiesty of the Lord our God be upon us: prosper thou the worke of our hands upon us, O prosper thou our handie worke.

Qui habitat. Psal. 91.

Who so dwelleth under the defence of the most High: shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

Morning Prayer.

2 I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope, and my stronghold: my God, in him will I trust.

3 For hee shall deliver thee from the snare of the Hunter, and from the noysome pestilence.

4 Hee shall defend thee under his wings, and thou shalt be safe under his feathers: his faithfulnesse and truth shalbe thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not bee afraide for any terrour by night: nor for the arrow that flyeth by day.

6 For the Pestilence that walketh in darknesse: nor for the sicknesse that destroyeth in the noone day.

7 A thousand shall fall beside thee, and tenne thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Yea, with thine eyes shalt thou behold: and see the reward of the ungodly.

9 For thou Lord art my hope: thou hast set thine house of defence very high.

10 There shall no evil happen unto thee: neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he shall give his Angels charge over thee: to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shal beare thee in their hands: that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt goe upon the Lion and Adder: the yong Lion and the Dragon shalt thou tread under thy fette.

14 Because hee hath set his love upon mee, therefore shall I deliver him: I shall set him up, because because hee hath knowen my Name.

15 Hee shall call vpon mee, and I will heare him : yea, I am with him in trouble, I will deliuer him, and bring him to honour.

16 With long life will I satisfie him : and shew him my saluation.

Domine, exaudi. Psal. 102.

Hear my prayer, O Lord : and let my crying come vnto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from mee in the time of my trouble : encline thine eares vnto me when I call, O heare me and that right soone.

3 For my dayes are consumed away like smoake : and my bones are burnt vp as it were a firebrand.

4 My heart is smitten downe, and withered like grasse : so that I forget to eate my bread.

5 For the voice of my groning : my bones will scarce cleaue to my flesh.

6 I am become like a Pelicane in the wilderness : and like an Owle that is in the desert.

7 I haue Watched, and am euen as it were a Sparrow : that sitteth alone vpon the house top.

8 Mine enemies reuile me all the day long : and they that are mad vpon me, are sworne together against me.

9 For I haue eaten ashes as it were bread : and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 And that because of thine indignation and wrath : for thou hast taken me vp, and cast me downe.

Morning Prayer.

11 My dayes are gone like a shadow: and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou (O Lord) shalt endure for euer: and thy remembrance throughout all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise and haue mercy vpon Sion: for it is time that thou haue mercy vpon her, yea, the time is come.

14 And why? thy seruants thinke vpon her stones: & it pitieth them to see her in the dust.

15 The Heathen shall feare thy Name, O Lord: and all the Kings of the earth thy Majesty.

16 When the Lord shall build vp Sion: and when his glory shall appeare.

17 When hee turneth him vnto the prayer of the poore destitute: & despiseth not their desire.

18 This shall be written for those that come after: and the people which shall be borne shall praise the Lord.

19 For he hath looked down from his Sanctuary: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth.

20 That he might heare the mournings of such as be in captivity: and deliuer the children appointed vnto death.

21 That they may declare the Name of the Lord in Sion: and his worship at Hierusalem.

22 When the people are gathered together: and the kingdomes also to serue the Lord.

23 He brought downe my strength in my journey : and shortned my dayes.

24 But I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of mine age: as for thy pecces they endure throughout all generations.

25 Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth : and the heavens are the worke of thy hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure : they all shall waxe old as doth a garment.

27 And as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shalbe changed: but thou art the same, and thy pecces shall not faile.

28 The children of thy servants shall continue : and their seed shall stand fast in thy sight.

De profundis. Psal. 130.

Out of the deepe have I called unto thee, O Lord : Lord heare my voice.

2 Oh let thine eares consider well: the voice of my complaint.

3 If thou Lord wilt bee extreame to marke what is done amisse: O Lord, who may abide it?

4 For there is mercy with thee : therefore shalt thou be feared.

5 I looke for the Lord, my soule doth waite for him : in his word is my trust.

6 My soul fleeth unto the Lord: before the morning watch, I say, before the morning watch.

7 O Israel trust in the Lord, for with the Lord there is mercy: and with him is plenteous redemption.

8 And he shal redeem Israel from all his sins.

Domine,

Morning Prayer.

Domine, exaudi. Psal. 143.

HEare my prayer, O Lord, and consider my desire: hearken unto me for thy truth and righteousness sake.

2 And enter not into iudgment with thy servant: for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul, he hath smitten my life downe to the ground: he hath laid me in the darknesse, as the men that have bin long dead.

4 Therefore is my spirit vexed within me: and my heart within me is desolate.

5 Yet doe I remember the time past, I muse upon all thy workes: yea, I exercise my selfe in the workes of thy hands.

6 I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soule gaspeth unto thee, as a thirsty land.

7 Hear me, O Lord, and that soon, for my spirit waxeth faint: hide not thy face from me, lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

8 O let me hear thy loving kindnes betimes in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shew thou me the way that I should walke in, for I lift up my soule unto thee.

9 Deliber me, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I flee unto thee to hide me.

10 Teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee, for thou art my God: let thy loving Spirit lead me forth into the land of righteousness.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Names sake : and for thy righteousnesse sake, bying my soule out of trouble.

12 And of thy goodnesse slay mine enemies : and destroy all them that were my soule, for I am thy seruant.

THE ORDER FOR Evening Prayer.

Direct us, O Lord, and yet in thy judgement, not in thy fury, lest we should be consumed, and brought to nothing.

Reent your hearts, and not your garments, and turn to the Lord your God, because he is gentle and mercifull, he is patient, and of much mercy, and such a one that is sorry for your afflictions.

Dearely beloved brethren, the scripture moveth us in sundry places to acknowledge and confesse our manifold sins and wickednesse, and that we should not dissemble nor cloak them before the face of Almighty God our heavenly father, but confesse them with an humble, lowly, penitent, and obedient heart, to the end that we may obtain forgive-nesse of the same, by his infinite goodnesse and mercy. And although we ought at all times humbly to acknowledge our sins before God : yet ought we most chiefly so to do, when we assemble and meet together, to render thanks for the great benefits that we have received at his hands, to set forth his most worthy praise, to hear his most holy word, and to ask those things that be requisite and necessary, as well for the body as the soul. Wherefore I pray and beseech you, as many as be here present, to accompany me with a pure heart and humble voice, unto the throne of the heavenly grace, saying after me.

A Almighty and most mercifull father, We have erred and strayed from thy wayes like lost sheep, We have followed too much the devices and desires of our own hearts, We have offended against thy holy lawes, We have left undone those things which we ought to have done, And we have done those things which we ought not to have done, And there is no health in us : But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us miserable offenders ; Spare thou them, O God, which confesse their faults ; Restore thou them that be penitent, according to thy promises declared unto mankinde in Christ

A Almighty God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which desireth not the death of a sinner, but rather that he may turn from his wickednesse and live, and hath given power and commandement to his Ministers, to declare and pronounce to his people, being penitent, the absolution and remission of their sinnes: he pardoneth and absolveth all them which truly repent, and unfeignedly beleeve his holy Gospel. Wherefore we beseech him to grant us true repentance, and his holy Spirit, that those things may please him which we do at this present, and that the rest of our life hereafter may be pure and holy, so that at the last we may come to his eternall joy, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

The people shall answer, Amen.

of Repentance,

And of true Reconciliation unto GOD.

There is nothing that the holy Ghost doth so much labour in all the scriptures to beat in mens heads, as repentance, amendment of life, and speedy returning unto the Lord God of Hosts. And no marvel why: for we do daily, and hourly by our wickednesse, & stubborn disobedience, horribly fall away from God, thereby purchasing unto our selues (if he should deal with us according to his justice) eternall damnation. So that no doctrine is so necessary in the church of God, as is the doctrine of repentance, and amendment of life. And verily the true preachers of the gospel of the kingdom of heaven, and of the glad and joyfull tidings of saluation, haue alwayes in their godly sermons, and preachings unto the people, joyned these two together, I mean mean repentance, and forgiveness of sins, even as our Saviour Jesus Christ did appoint himself, saying, So it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise again the third day, and that repentance, and forgiveness of sins should be preached in his Name among all nations. And therefore the holy apostle doth in the acts speak after this manner: I have witnessed both to the Jews and to the Gentiles, the repentance towards God, and faith towards our Lord Jesus Christ. Did not John Baptist, Zacharias son, begin his ministerie with the doctrine of repentance, saying, Repent, for the kingdom of God is at hand? The like doctrine did our Saviour Jesus Christ preach himself, and commanded his apostles to preach the same.

I might here alledge very many places out of the prophets, in the which this most wholesome doctrine of repentance is very earnestly urged, as most needfull for all degrees, and orders of men, but one shall be sufficient at this present time.

These are the words of Joel the prophet. Therefore also now the Lord saith, Return Joel. 2. unto me with all your heart, with fasting, weeping and mourning, rent your hearts, and not your clothes, and return unto the Lord your God, for he is gracious, and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great compassion, and ready to pardon wickednesse. Whereby it is given us to understand, that we have here a perpetuall rule appointed unto us, which ought to be obserued, and kept at all times, and that there is none other way whereby the wrath of God may be pacified, and his anger allwaged, that the fiercenesse of his furie, and the plagues of destruction, which by his righteous iudgement he had determined to bring upon us, may depart, be removed, and taken away. Where he saith, But now therefore, saith the Lord, return unto me: It is not without great importance, that the prophet speaketh so. For he had afore set forth at large unto them, the horrible vengeance of God, which no man was able to abide, and therefore he doth move them to repentance, to obtain mercie: as if he should say, I will not have these things to be so taken, as though there were no hope of grace left. For although ye do by your sins deserue to be utterly destroyed, and God by his righteous iudgements hath determined to bring no small destruction upon you, yet know that though ye are in a manner on the very edge of the sword, if ye will speedily return unto him, he will most gently, and most mercifully receiue you into his labour again. Whereby we are admonished, that repentance is neuer too late, so that it be true, and earnest. For sith that God in his scriptures will be called our Father, doubtlesse he doth follow the nature, and propertie of gentle, and mercifull fathers which seek nothing so much, as the returning again, and amendment of their children, as Christ doth abundantly teach in the parable of the prodigall son. Doth not the Lord himself say by the prophet, I will not the death of the wicked, but that he turn from his wicked wayes, and live? And in another place, If we confesse our sin, God is faithfull, and righteous to forgive us our sins, and to make us clean from all wickednesse. Which most comfortable promises are confirmed by many examples of the Scriptures. When the Jews did willingly receive, and embrace the wholesome counsell of the prophet Esay, God by and by did reach his helping hand unto them, and by his angel did in one night slay the most worthy and valiant souldiers of Sennacheribs camp. Whereunto may king Manasses be added, who after all manner of damnable wickednesse, returned unto the Lord, and therefore was heard of him, and restored again into his kingdom. The same grace, and favour did the sinfull woman Magdalene, Zacheus, the poor thief, and many other feel. All which things ought to serve for our comfort against the temptations of our consciences, whereby the devill goeth about to shake, or rather to overthrow our faith. For every one of us ought to apply the same unto himself, and say, Yet now return unto the Lord: neither let the remembrance of thy former life discourage thee, yea the more wicked that it hath been, the more fervent, and earnest let thy repentance or returning be, and forthwith thou shalt feel the ears of the Lord wide open unto thy prayers. But let us more narrowly look upon the commandment of the Lord touching this matter. Turn unto me (saith he by the holy prophet Joel) with all your hearts, with fasting, weeping, and mourning. Rent your hearts, and not your garments, &c. In which words he comprehendeth all manner of things that can be spoken of repentance, which is a returning again of the whole man unto God, from whom we be fallen away by sin. But that the whole discourse thereof may the better be born away, we shall first consider in order four principall points, that is, from what we must return, to whom we must return, by whom we may be able to convert, and the manner how to turn to God.

From whence
we must turn.

First, from whence, or from what things we must return. Truly we must return from those things, whereby we have been with-drawn, pluckt, and led away from God. And these generally are our sins, which, as the prophet Esay doth testifie, do separate God, and us, and hide his face, that he will not hear us. But under the name of sin, not onely those grosse words, and deeds, which by the common judgement of men, are counted to be filthy, and unlawfull, and so consequently abominable sins: but also the filthy lusts, and inward concupiscences of the flesh, which (as S. Paul testifieth) do resist the will, and Spirit of God, and therefore ought earnestly to be bidden,
and

and kept under. We must repent of the false, and erroneous opinions that we have had of God, and the wicked superstition that doth breed of the same, the unlawfull worshipping and service of God, and other like. All these things must they forsake, that will truly turn unto the Lord, and repent aright. For such things the wrath of God cometh upon the children of disobedience: no end of punishment ought to be looked for, as long as we continue in such things. Therefore they be here condemned, which will seem to be repentant sinners, and yet will not forsake their idolatry, and superstition. Secondly, we must see unto whom we ought to return. Revertimini usque ad me, saith the Lord: that is, Return as far as unto me. We must then return unto the Lord, yea, we must return unto him alone: For he alone is the truth, and the fountain of all goodnesse: But we must labour that we do return as far as unto him, and that we do never cease or rest till we have apprehended, and taken hold upon him.

Ephes 5.

Unto whom we ought to return.

But this must be done by faith. For sith that God is a Spirit, he can by no other meanes be apprehended, and taken hold upon. Wherefore, first they doe greatly erre, which doe not turn unto God, but unto the creatures, or unto the inventions of men, or unto their own merits. Secondly, they that doe begin to return unto the Lord, and doe saint in the midway, before they come to the mark that is appointed unto them. Thirdly, because we have of our own selves nothing to present us to God, and doe no lesse flee from him, after our fall, then our first parent Adam did, who when he had sinned, did seek to hide himself from the sight of God, we have need of a Mediatour for to bring, and reconcile us unto him, who for our sinnes is angry with us. The same is Jesus Christ, who being true, and naturall God, equall, and of one substance with the father, did at the time appointed take upon him our frail nature, in the blessed Virgins womb, and that of her undefiled substance, that so he might be a mediatour between God, and us, and pacifie his wrath. Of him doth the father himself speak from Heaven, saying, This is my welbeloved Sonne, in whom I am well pleased. And he himself in his Gospell doth cry out, and say, I am the way, the truth, and the life, no man cometh unto the father but by me. For he alone did with the sacrifice of his Body, and Bloud, make satisfaction unto the Justice of God for our sinnes. The Apostles doe testifie, that he was exalted, for to give repentance, and remission of sinnes unto Israel. Both which things he himself did command to be preached in his Name. Therefore they are greatly deceived that preach repentance without Christ, and teach the simple, and ignorant, that it consisteth only in the workes of men. They may indeed speak many things of good workes, and of amendment of life, and manners: but without Christ they be all vaine, and unprofitable. They that think that they have done much of themselves towards repentance, are so much more the farther from God, because they doe seek those things in their own workes, and merits, which ought only to be sought in our Saviour Jesus Christ, and in the merits of his death, and passion, and bloudshedding. Fourthly, this holy Prophet Joel doth libely expresse the manner of this our returning or repentance, comprehending all the inward, and outward things that may be here obserbed. First, he will have us to return unto God with our whole heart, whereby he doth remoue, and put away all hypocrisie, lest the same might iustly be said unto us, This people draweth neer unto me with their mouth, and worshipping me with their lips, but their heart is farre off from me.

Secondly, he requirerh a sincere, and pure love of godlinesse, and of the true worshipping, and service of God, that is to say, that forsaking all manner of things that are repugnant, and contrary unto Gods will, we doe geue our hearts unto him, and the whole strength of our bodie, and soules, according to that which is written in the Law: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soule, and with all thy strength. Here therefore nothing is left unto us, that we may gibe unto the world, and unto the lusts of the flesh. For sith that the heart is the fountain of all our workes, as many as doe with the whole heart turn unto the Lord, doe live unto him only. Neither doe they yet repent truely, that halting on both sides, doe otherwise obey God, but by and by doe think, that, laying him aside, it is lawfull for them to serbe the world, and the flesh. And because that we are letted by the naturall corruption of our own flesh, and the wicked affections of the same, he doth bid us also to return with fasting: not thereby understanding a superstitious abstinency, and choosing of meates, but a true discipline or taming of the flesh, whereby the nourishments of filthy lusts, and of stubbozne contumacy, and pride, may be withdrawn, and pluckt away from it. Whereunto he doth adde weeping, and mourning, which doe contain an outward profession of repentance, which is very needfull, and necessary, that so we may partly set forth the righteousness of God, when by such meanes we doe testifie that we deserved punishments at his hands, and partly stop the offence that was openly giben unto the weak.

Psal. 26.

and set forth the righteousness of God, in punishing sinne, and also stay them that might have abused his example to sinne the more boldly. Therefore they are farthest from true Repentance, that will not confesse, and acknowledge their sinnes, nor yet bewaile them, but rather doe most ungodly glory, and rejoyce in them. Now lest any man should think that repentance doth consist in outward weeping, and mourning only, he doth rehearse that wherein the chief of the whole matter doth lie, when he saith, Rent your hearts, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God. For the people of the East part of the world were wont to rent their garments, if any thing happened unto them that seemed intolerable. This thing did hypocrites sometime counterfeit, and follow, as though the whole repentance did stand in such outward gesture. He teacheth then, that another manner of thing is required, that is, that they must be contrite in their hearts, that they must utterly detest, and abhorre sinnes, and being at defiance with them, return unto the Lord their God, from whom they went away before. For God hath no pleasure in the outward ceremony, but requireth a contrite, and humble heart; which he will never despise, as David doth testifie. There is therefore none other use to these outward ceremonies, but as far forth as we are stirred up by them, and doe serve to the glory of God, and to the edifying of other.

How repentance is not unprofitable.

Now doth he adde unto this doctrine of exhortation, certain godly reasons, which he doth ground upon the nature, and property of God, and whereby he doth teach that true repentance can never be unprofitable or unfruitfull. For as in all other things mens hearts doe quail, and faint, if they once perceiue that they travaile in vaine: Even so most specially in this matter, must we take heed, and beware that we suffer not our selues to be perswaded that all that we doe is but labour lost: For thereof either sudden desperation doth arise, or a licentious boldnesse to sinne, which at length bringeth unto desperation. Lest any such thing then should happen unto them, he doth certifie them of the grace, and goodnesse of God, who is alwayes most ready to receiue them into fauour againe, that turn speedily unto him. Which thing he doth prove with the same titles wherewith God doth describe, and set forth himself unto Moses, speaking on this manner: For he is gracious, and mercifull, slow to anger, of great kindnesse, and repenteth him of the evil, that is, such a one as is sorry for your afflictions. First, he calleth him gentle, and gracious, as he who of his own nature is more prompt, and ready to do good, then to punish. Whereunto the saying of Esaias the Prophet seemeth to pertain, where where he saith, Let the wicked forsake his way, Esaia 55

and the unrighteous his own imaginations,
and return unto the Lord, and he will have pite tie on him, and to our God, for he is very ready to forgive. Secondly, he doth attribute unto him mercy, or rather (according to the Hebrew word) the bowels of mercies: whereby he signified the naturall affections of parents towards their children. Which thing David doth Psalm 103 set forth goodly, saying, As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that fear him, for he knoweth whereof we be made, he remembereth that we are but dust. Thirdly, he saith, that he is slow to anger, that is to say, long-suffering,
and which is not lightly provoked to wrath.
Fourthly, that he is of much kindnesse, for he is that bottomlesse Well of all goodnesse, who rejoiceth to do good unto us: therefore did he create, and make men, that he might have whom he should do good unto, and make partakers of his heavenly riches. Fifthly, he repenteth of the evil, that is to say, he doth call back again, and revoke the punishment which he had threatned, when he seeth men repent, turn, and amend. Whereupon we do not without a iust cause detest, and abhorre the damnable opinion of them, which do most wickedly go about to perswade the simple and ignorant people, that if we chance, after we be once

An Homily

For Christ to fall into some horrible sin, it shall be unprofitable unto us, there is no more hope of reconciliation, or to be received again into the favour, and mercy of God. And that they may give the better colour unto their pestilent and pernicious error, they do commonly bring in the sixt, and tenth Chapters of the Epistle to the Hebrews, and the second Chapter of the second Epistle of Peter, not considering that in those places the holy Apostles do not speak of the daily falls, that we (as long as we carry about this body of sin) are subject unto: but of the finall falling away from Christ, and his Gospel, which is a sin against the holy Ghost, that shall never be forgiven, because that they do utterly forsake the known truth, do hate Christ and his word, they do crucifie and mock him (but to their utter destruction) and therefore fall into desperation, and cannot repent. And that this is the true meaning of the holy Spirit of God, it appeareth by many other places of the Scriptures, which promise unto all true repentant sinners, and to them that with their whole heart do turn unto the Lord their God, free pardon and remission of their sin. For the probation hereof, we read this: O Israel (saith the holy Prophet Jeremy) if thou return, return unto me, saith the Lord, and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not be removed. Again, these are are Esaias words: Let the wicked forsake his own wayes, and the unrighteous his own imaginacions, and turn again unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him, and to our God, for he is ready to forgibe. And in the Prophet Osee, the godly do exhort one another Ose 6

after this manner, Come and let us turn again unto the Lord, for he hath smitten us, and he will heal us, he hath wounded us, and he will binde us up again. It is most evident and Note.
plain, that these things ought to be understood of them that were with the Lord afore,
and by their sins and wickednesses were gone away from him.

For we do not turn again unto him with whom we were never before, but we come unto him. Now, unto all them that will return unsainedly unto the Lord their God, the favour and mercy of God unto forgiveness of sins is liberally offered. Whereby it followeth necessarily, that although we do, after we be Ecclef. 7

Jesus Christ, fall into great sins (for there is no righteous man upon the earth that sinneth not, and if we say we have no sin, we deceive our selves, and the truth is not in us) yet if we rise again by Repentance, and with a full purpose of amendment of life do flee unto the mercy of God, taking sure hold thereupon, through faith in his Son Jesu Christ,
there is an assured and infallible hope of pardon and remission of the same, and that we shall be received again into the favour of our Heavenly Father. It is written of David: I have found a man according to mine own heart, or, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man according to mine own heart, who will do all things that I will. This is a great commendation of David. It is also most certain, that he did stedfastly beleefe the promise that was made him touching the Messias, who should come of him touching the flesh, and that by the same faith he was justified, and grafted in our Saviour Jesu Christ to come, and yet after wards he fell horribly, committing most detestable adultery, and damnable murther, and yet as soon as he cried Pec-cavi, I have sinned, unto the Lord, his sins being forgiven, he was received into favour again. Now will we come unto Peter, of whom no man can doubt but that he was grafted in our Saviour Jesus Christ, long afore his denyall. Which thing may easily be proved by the answer which he did in his Name, and in the name of his fellow Apostles, make unto our Saviour Jesu Christ, when he said unto them, Will ye also go away? Master (saith he) to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternall life, and we beleefe, and know that thou art that Christ the Son of the living God. Whereunto may be added the like confession of Peter, when Christ doth give us most infallible testimony: Thou art blessed, Simon the son of Jonas, for neither flesh nor blood hath revealed this unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. These words are sufficient to prove, that Peter was already justified, through this his lively faith in the only begotten Son of God, whereof he made so notable, and so solemn a confession. But did not he afterwards most cowardly deny his Master, although he had heard of him, Whosoever denieth me before men, I will deny him before my Father? Nevertheless, as soon as with weeping eyes, and with a sobbing heart he did acknowledge his offence, and with an earnest repentance did flee unto the mercy of God, taking sure hold thereupon, through faith in him whom he had so shamefully denied, his sinne was forgiven him, and for a certificate and assurance thereof, the room of his Apostleship was not denied unto him. But now mark what doth follow. After the same holy Apostle had on Whitsunday with the rest of the Disciples received the gift of the holy Ghost most abundantly, he committed no small offence in Antiochia, by bringing the consciences of the faithfull into doubt by his example, so that Paul was faine to rebuke him to his face, because that he walked not uprightly, or went not the right way in the Gospell. Shall we now say, that after this grievous offence, he was utterly excluded, and shut out from the grace, and mercy of G D, and that this his trespasse, whereby he was a stumbling-block unto many, was unpardonable: G D defend we should say so. But as these examples are not brought in, to the end that we should thereby take a boldnesse to sinne, presuming on the mercy, and goodnesse of G D: but to the end that if through the frailnesse of our own flesh, and the temptation of the diuell, we fall into like finnes, we should in no wise despaire of the mercy, and goodnesse of G D: Even so must we beware, and take heed, that we doe in no wise think in our hearts, imagine, or beleebe that we are able to repent aright, or turn aright, or to turn effectually unto the Lord by our own might, and strength. For this must be verified in all men, without me ye can doe nothing. Again, of our selues we are not able as much as to think a good thought. And in another place, It is God that worketh in us both the will, and the deed. For this cause, although Jeremy had said before, If thou return, O Israel, return unto me, saith the Lord: Yet after wards he saith, Turn thou me, O Lord, and I shall be turned, for thou art the Lord my God. And therefore that holy Writer, and ancient father Ambrose doth plainly affirm, that the turning of the heart unto G D, is of G D, as the Lord himself doth testifie by his Prophet, saying, And I will give thee a heart to know me, that I am

I am the Lord, and they shall be my people, and I will be their G O D, for they shall return unto me with their whole heart. These things being considered, let us earnestly pray unto the living God our heavenly father, that he will vouchsafe by his holy Spirit, to work
a true, and unfained repentance in us, that after the painfull labours, and travels of this life, we may live eternally with his Son Jesus Christ: to whom be all praise, and glozy
